Dear Alabama A&M University Team Member,

I am pleased to announce that OfficeMax will be the new partner with Alabama A&M University for our office supplies. Through an RFP process it was determined that OfficeMax was the lowest responsible bidder that would deliver the best overall value to Alabama A&M University. Their team will be working with us over the next week or so to perform training and roll out the new program. OfficeMax will offer online ordering for Alabama A&M University. We will be receiving more details and information over the next week from OfficeMax and their team. Below are the OfficeMax contacts that we will be working with to roll the program out. Please join me in supporting this new partner with Alabama A&M University!
