Greetings and Welcome to The Hill!

Thank you for choosing historic Alabama A&M University as the institution to set you on a course toward the realization of your dreams. Indeed, you have made a wise choice, one that will provide you benefits for decades to come. As a top-notch university, we are committed to your success, and we have a proven track record of producing graduates who go on to become contributing members of society. Thus, this solid commitment extends to excellence in our teaching, research and service roles.

While at AAMU, you will become acquainted with the numerous successes of those who have preceded you. They, too, endured many of the same challenges that are so much a part of college life. They succeeded, as I know you will, and demonstrated through their accomplishments, that the sky's the limit with a degree from Alabama A&M University. As you begin your studies, you will become skilled at maneuvering the campus, establishing friendships, ordering your time and arranging your resources. Don't fret, though, because we are still here to assist you. Likewise, several faculty and staff members anxiously await your contact for direction.

However, at the college level, you will sometimes have to find the people and ask for the resources you need. Just like in life. Your Student Handbook is an important tool to assist you in making the transition into a self-motivated individual who secures the needed answers. Begin by becoming familiar with the important information in this handbook and read it again as often as you need it.

Again, I am pleased to welcome you to AAMU. We are certain that your experiences here will bring out the scholar in you, along with the activist, thinker and keeper of the Bulldog spirit!

Sincerely,

UNIVERSITY HYMN

The fourth President of Alabama A&M University, Dr. Joseph Fanning Drake, wrote the University hymn early in his tenure. Drake served as the University President from 1927 to 1962. His lyrics are a tribute to AAMU Founder Dr. William Hooper Councill and his legacy.

AAMU alumni around the world know and respect the hymn, as will each new student continuing their education at AAMU. "Long Live Thy Fame!"

"Alabama A&M" (Alma Mater)

Alabama A&M

Rich in Heritage divine

Bless'd by the life of Councill brave

Who gave his all that thou might'st shine.

Many thy brave and loyal sons

Sent from thy shrine on Normal's Hill

Filled with a zeal for tasks well done

Anxious thy mandates to fulfill.

Long may you live to bless the world

For right and justice take a stand

As from your rocky heights you view

Your children's work throughout the land.

Chorus

Alma Mater, blest be thy name.

Long live thy fame; long live thy fame!

Statute of William Hooper Councill.

Academic Standards and Regulations

Refer to the Most Recent Undergraduate Bulletin for Additional Information

Information regarding academic policies is not provided in its entirety in this handbook, but is addressed in other University policies. Specific academic regulations and information can be found in your academic department and/or college. Please seek additional information when needed.

The Unit of Credit: The unit of academic credit is the “semester hour.” It is defined as one hour of regular class work or two or more hours of laboratory work per week, pursued and satisfactorily completed through one standard semester’s schedule or equivalent.

The Academic Year: Alabama A&M University operates on the semester system. The year is divided into two semesters and a summer session. Two semesters equal a regular academic year. Summer session classes are scheduled so that a student will spend a sufficient number of clock hours in a course to be equivalent to the time spent during a regular semester.

Registering for Classes: The mission of the Office of the Registrar is to support the instructional mission of the University as it relates to conducting registration and keeping academic records. To achieve this purpose the department offers services in Course Inventory Management, Enrollment Services, Academic Progress Monitoring, Academic Records, Graduation, and Federal Compliance. In the Fall of 2015, the Office of the Registrar introduced Degree Works, a web-based registration and course tracking tool to keep students on track for graduation. All Academic Advisors are encouraged to utilize Degree Works.

Use the following steps to register:

Step 1: Contact Advisor for meeting to select classes. Before meeting with an Advisor, be Sure to:

1. Know what to bring in advance - - follow Degree Works. For questions about required courses, Degree Works is the tool to keep students on track to graduation. Pre-select classes of interest.

Identify time constraints (e.g., Can only take morning classes on Mondays & Wednesdays).

Step 2: Request the personal identification number from the academic advisor.

Step 3: Register online at: <http://www.aamu.edu/sis/webreg.asp>

Step 4: Once classes are scheduled – pay the fees

Verify and print class schedules by accessing BANNER Student Self-Service (SSO).

Early Registration: Early registration is designed to provide an opportunity for currently-enrolled students to register early for the next semester with relative ease. It also provides students the advantage of reserving spaces in classes without having to return to campus for regular registration. To that end, all returning students are encouraged to register during the early registration period.

Academic Standards and Regulations

Credit Hour Load Policy: A student may not register for more hours of credit in a semester than are indicated in the catalog for the particular semester of the curriculum he or she is pursuing, EXCEPT by written permission of the advisor and approval of the dean of the College in which he or she is enrolled. A student registering for 20 or more credit hours must obtain prior written permission from the Office of Academic Affairs. The maximum credit hour load for the fall or spring semester without special permission is 19 semester hours. The maximum credit hour load for the summer term is 10.

Class Schedule Changes: Once a student has completed registration, all changes in his or her schedule must be made on a Drop/Add Form and recorded in the Office of the Registrar. All Drop/Add Forms must be validated by the Financial Services Office.

These forms are available in the office of each academic department. The signatures of the advisor and the instructor are required to authorize a schedule change.

Class Attendance Policy: A student is permitted one (1) unexcused absence for each credit hour generated by the class. For example, two (2) absences are allowed in a two-hour class.

2. Instructors must include on their syllabi applicable penalties for unexcused absences beyond those permitted based on credit hours.
3. Each student who exceeds the number of unexcused absences will be counseled by the teacher regarding any applicable penalties as stated on the syllabus.

Academic Standards and Regulations

Academic Standards and Regulations

System of Grading: The University uses a letter system of grading which follows:
A - exceptional scholarship; B - distinctively above average; C- average quality; D - barely passing; F - failure; I - incomplete; W - withdrew. The grade of "P" is used to indicate satisfactory completion of Graduate Writing and History Departmental Seminars. The grade "X" will be given for auditing a course; however, no credit will be allowed. Credit for any course in which a student has received a grade of "F" can be obtained only by repeating the course and earning a passing grade

Grade Point Average or Quality Points: The University's grading system is based on a 4.00 scale. Quality points are assigned as follow: A=4.00; B=3.00; C=2.00; D=1.00; F=0.00
The following grades do not carry quality points: W, I, P, or Audit. Grades earned at another university cannot be used to improve a grade point average or eliminate a quality point deficiency.

How to Compute the Grade Point Average (GPA)

Example	GRADE	QUALITY PTS.	COURSE HOURS	TOTAL (Quality Pts X Course Hours)
Comp 1:	B	3	3	9
Gen Psy:	A	4	3	12
Biology:	B	3	4	12
US History:	C	2	3	6
Total			13	39

39 total quality points/13 credit hours = 3.0 GPA

Academic Standards and Regulations

- Freshmen - Those who have completed 30 semester hours of credit or less.
- Sophomores - Those who have completed 31 but not more than 63 semester hours of credit.
- Juniors - Those who have completed 64 but not more than 94 semester hours of credit.
- Seniors - Those who have completed 95 or more semester hours of credit.

ACADEMIC PROBATION AND SUSPENSION

Academic Misconduct: All students enrolled at Alabama A&M University are expected to be honorable and observe standards of conduct appropriate to a community of scholars. The University expects from its students a higher standard of conduct than the minimum required to avoid discipline. All acts of dishonesty in any academic work constitute academic misconduct. This includes but is not limited to the following:

- Cheating – using or attempting to use unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise.
- Plagiarism – representing the words, ideas, or data of another as one's own in any academic exercise. This includes plagiarism of works taken from the internet.
- Fabrication – unauthorized falsification or invention of any information or citation in an academic exercise.
- Aiding and abetting academic dishonesty – intentionally or knowingly helping or attempting to help another student commit an act of academic dishonesty.

Penalties for academic misconduct may be punishable by one of the following:

- Letter of academic misconduct placed in the student's academic folder.
- Lowering of an assignment grade and/or final grade.
- Academic discipline resulting in the loss of scholarships, non-participation in academic-related activities, etc.
- Temporary suspension or expulsion from the University.
- Expulsion from a class resulting in a failing grade.

Academic Alert/Warning: If at the end of the first semester of matriculation a student has not attained the minimum required grade point average, the student will receive an official warning notification from the Office of the Registrar.

This notification shall warn the student that their academic performance is not up to par and that continued sub-par performance will result in academic probation. While on warning status, a student may only enroll in a maximum of 12 semester credit hours.

Academic Probation: A student will be placed on academic probation when their cumulative grade point average fails to meet the standard for satisfactory academic progress described above. Students who are placed on academic probation will have to raise their cumulative GPA to what is required for satisfactory academic progress to end probation.

Academic Standards and Regulations

To avoid academic suspension, a student on probation must earn a GPA within the required period equal to or above the level required for satisfactory academic progress. During the period of academic probation, students will be allowed to enroll in a maximum of 12 semester hours.

Students on probation who register for more than 12 credit hours will not retain credit for hours above 12. No student on academic probation may hold office in any campus organization, participate in any organized non-class off-campus trip, or officially represent AAMU.

This regulation does not apply to participation in activities conducted completely on campus. Participation in such activities, however, may be very limited in scope. A student on academic probation may be ineligible to receive financial aid and could be required to repay aid that was previously awarded. Questions related to financial aid should be directed to the Office of Financial Aid.

A student who fails a required course must repeat the course the first time the course is offered during a period in which the student is enrolled after the failing grade has been reported. A student may be required to repeat an elective in which a grade of "F" was received, upon recommendation of their major department chairperson or college dean.

Academic Suspension: A student who has been placed on academic probation and fails to acquire the minimum cumulative GPA based on classification at the end of the two-semester grace period will automatically be suspended. Temporary academic suspension will result in the loss of one semester of matriculation. A student under suspension may not obtain credit toward a degree at AAMU from courses pursued at another institution. Academic suspension may be followed by readmission on academic probation.

Appeal for Reinstatement Following Suspension: A student on academic suspension is required to remain out of the University for one regular semester and may apply for consideration of readmission after the lapse of one semester.

Appeals for reinstatement from academic suspension are available only for students who can provide documentation that has affected their academic status. A student may appeal for academic reinstatement after suspension only once during the student's academic career at Alabama A&M University.

Indefinite Suspension: A student is declared on indefinite suspension and will not be granted permission for readmission to the University if the student has:

- Completed two semesters on academic probation and failed to raise his or her grade point average to the required minimum, or
- Remained out of the University for one semester and is readmitted on probation or readmitted on appeal without staying out one semester, and is subsequently suspended.

The appeal can be ended at any level, with the consent of the applicant student. A copy of the decision will be forwarded to the Office of Academic Affairs.

Academic appeals will be reviewed during the fall and spring semesters while classes are in session when faculty are available to hear the appeal and faculty and students are available to present evidence. There will be no appeal hearings during the summer session or when classes are not in session. An appeal of any grade must be made within one calendar year of receiving the grade. STUDENT COMPLAINTS: HANDLING AND RESOLUTION POLICY STATEMENT

Alabama A&M University (AAMU) is committed to continuous improvement of its non-academic and academic support services for its students. The University also provides adequate, easily activated procedures to deal with student complaints. Effective complaint resolution processes provide AAMU with valuable opportunities to analyze recurring or persistent problems and ensure continuous development and improvement of student services and student satisfaction.

Alabama A&M University has a commitment to ensuring that all student complaints are resolved quickly, using a clear, fair and reliable management process. The University treats complaints seriously and ensures all processes are clear, prompt, confidential and fair to all parties and will use its best endeavors to ensure an acceptable resolution is achieved using the principle of "natural justice" (i.e. principles, procedures, or treatment felt instinctively to be morally right and fair).

The University is also committed, wherever possible, to dealing with complaints at the local level (within the confines of the University). Complaints that are resolved quickly, locally and with the fewest people have the greatest chances of removing any impediment to good working/teaching/learning relationships.

The complaints policy and procedures are based on the following principles:

1. That the process used to handle and resolve complaints is fair and is perceived as fair; it is impartial and capable of offering appropriate outcomes;
2. That complaints are treated confidentially, and information is only used for the purposes for which it was collected;
3. That the complaints procedures are easily understood, and that students and staff have access to information about the operation and outcomes of the process;
4. That any barriers which deter or prevent students from accessing the complaints system are identified and steps taken to remove them;
5. That bias in favor of either students or staff is avoided and that reasons for decisions are provided to all parties concerned;
6. That faculty/staff involved in resolving complaints apply rules of natural justice; give all parties to a complaint the opportunity to respond to issues raised where appropriate; and treat each complaint on its merit regardless of the manner of presentation of either the complaint or the complainant;
7. That the complaints system is supported at all levels of the University, where a student's right to complain is recognized;
8. That a mechanism is in place to ensure that no student is victimized or suffers detriment as a result of making a complaint. Any attempt to penalize a student for compiling a complaint may be subject to University disciplinary procedures;
9. That complaints are handled in a timely manner with achievable deadlines clearly stated for each step in the resolution of the complaint;
10. That faculty/staff who handle complaints are enabled and encouraged to use their judgment within a framework of documented guidelines, procedures, legislation or University policy;

11. That wherever possible complaints are handled, resolved and reviewed locally and have the fewest people necessary involved;
12. That all students have the right to appeal local decisions to the next level and ultimately to the President of the University, who will only intervene when local reviews have not satisfactorily resolved the issues raised by the complainant;
13. That a mechanism is in place to monitor the nature and outcome of complaints across the University and identify issues of widespread concern to students; and
14. That the effectiveness of the complaints system is regularly evaluated by faculty/staff and students involved in the process.

Application: This policy covers issues of concern relating to any aspect of the University life, including:

- The delivery of academic and administrative services;
- The delivery of other support services; and
- Discrimination on equal opportunity grounds. This policy does not cover:
 - Sexual harassment (please contact the Title IX Coordinator located in the Office of Human Resources)
 - Complaints that are outside the scope of University operations;
 - Student misconduct (any violation of University Policy, Procedures or Standards, please refer to Section II – Academic Life);
 - Complaints about individuals who are not full or part-time members of staff or enrolled at The University.

Accountability: All faculty/staff and students have a responsibility to contribute to a teaching, learning and working environment that is characterized by mutual respect, open communication and the resolution of conflicts.

Additionally, the Divisional Vice Presidents will:

- a. ensure that commitment of the University to the satisfactory resolution of complaints is an integral part of providing high quality services for students and is understood by senior University managers; and,
- b. receive a report as to any decisions of lower management and take such steps, as she/he may consider necessary to ensure its full and effective implementation.

Academic Deans and Unit Directors will:

- a. ensure that complaint processes are promoted openly, and actively supported;
- b. ensure that staff have access to adequate support, information, resources and training in resolving complaints;

- d. ensure that any corrective actions arising from complaints are implemented and where appropriate, reasonable steps are taken to prevent a similar complaint re-occurring; and
- e. monitor working and teaching environments to prevent victimization as a result of complaints.

Department Chairperson and Administrative Managers will:

- a. be accountable for conducting a review of complaints which have not been satisfactorily resolved at the local level, unless they have been involved in the resolution or have conflict of interest. In these cases the accountability will lie with the next managerial level.
- b. Be responsible for consulting with any person or group of people, including University committees, necessary to establish the fact of the complaint and offer an appropriate resolution. Unless the permission of the complainant is gained, this consultation will be as a case-in principle.

All academic and general staff will:

- a. attempt to resolve all complaints using principles of natural justice in a timely manner according to the procedures and guidelines on complaint resolution;
- b. ensure that all complaints are treated seriously, investigated sensitively and that confidentiality is maintained at all times; and

- c. provide timely and accurate information during the course of a complaint; and
- d. not make vexatious complaints that are complaints, which are mischievous, trivial, or malicious.

Procedures for Handling and Resolution of Student Complaints

- This process is designed to meet the following objectives:
- To provide procedures that recognize and protect the rights of students to make complaints and which are driven by AAMU to ensure that the rights of the complainant and the respondent are addressed in an even-handed way;
- To provide processes which are accessible to all students and which are appropriate for dealing with all complaints in an equitable and culturally sensitive manner;
- To clearly identify the various steps and processes involved in handling and resolving complaints;

- To clearly identify sources of information for students and faculty/staff involved in a complaint;
- To specify timelines by which processes must be completed;
- To ensure that mechanisms are in place to maintain confidentiality, with a minimum number of people involved and secure record keeping; and
- To provide processes for feedback on service provision to staff and encourage dissemination of best practice examples.

Process Summary

STEP 1

When a problem or issue arises, students are advised to seek information and assistance from the Student Government Association's Office. Students have three options for proceeding:

- Take no further action
- Make comments or suggestions regarding the issues, or
- Make a complaint (SEE STEP 2 BELOW)

STEP 2

A student makes a complaint (oral or written) to the member of faculty/staff responsible for the service, decision or action about which they wish to complain. Faculty/Staff will endeavor to find a resolution. The majority of complaints are resolved successfully at this Step.

STEP 3

Students who feel that their complaint has not been satisfactorily resolved can request a review by Department Chairpersons or Administrative Managers.

Chairpersons and Managers will independently review the complaint and either support the original offer or provide an alternative resolution. The next managerial level should conduct the review where the Chairperson or Manager was involved in the initial attempts at resolution or has a conflict of interest in the review.

STEP 4

If satisfactory resolution has not been obtained at this point, students can lodge a written appeal with the Divisional Vice Presidents who will hear the complaint and render a final decision based on all the evidence presented. The President of the University may only overturn this decision.

How to Submit a Written Complaint

- The complaint policy only addresses significant, documented, alleged non-compliance with the SACSCOC accreditation standards, policies or procedures.
- Complainants are expected to have attempted to resolve the issue through the institution's complaint processes before filing a complaint with SACSCOC.
- The SACSCOC complaint process is not intended to be used to involve the Commission in disputes between individuals and member institutions or to cause the Commission to interpose itself as a reviewing authority in individual matters; nor does the policy allow the Commission to seek redress on an individual's behalf.
- The primary purpose of the SACSCOC complaint procedure is to acquire valuable information regarding an accredited institution's possible non-compliance with accreditation standards, policies and procedures rather than to resolve individual disputes.
- Complaints must be tied to specific standard numbers from The Principles of Accreditation: Foundations for Quality Enhancement

Statement of Expectations

As members of the University community, all students, groups of students, and student organizations are expected to exemplify Alabama Agricultural and Mechanical University's community principles and values, to engage in socially responsible behavior, and to model exceptional conduct, character, and citizenship on and off campus. If/when students witness or are informed of conduct that may not meet these standards, they are expected to take an active role in upholding the University's values, not merely through demonstration, but by informing the Department of Public Safety (DPS) at 256-372-5555; or reporting the behavior to University officials. All emergencies should be reported by calling DPS or 911.

Scope of the Code of Conduct

The Student Code of Conduct applies to alleged violations, both on and off campus, as it pertains to university students. The University reserves the right to investigate and resolve any report or incident in which a student is alleged to violate any part of the Student Code of Conduct. University and residence hall guests are also expected to follow all policies. Student hosts are accountable for the conduct of their guests, and can be deemed the responsible party for violations committed by their guests and sanctioned accordingly. This applies to individuals, groups, and student organizations.

Philosophy of Student Conduct and Discipline

Student conduct is an integral part of Alabama A&M University's educational mission, and developing responsible behavior and self-discipline are part of the educational process. The university expects its students to obey national, state, and local laws, to abide by its institutional regulations, to respect the rights and privileges of others, to support the mission and vision of the institution, and to conduct themselves in a manner that brings no personal or institutional discredit. In the event that students fail to demonstrate such behavior, the University has the right to enforce appropriate disciplinary action. As a prerequisite for enrollment at Alabama A&M University, all parents, guardians, and/or students are expected to understand and accept the university's implied right to discipline.

The University's Student Conduct system and other components of the program emphasize the development of each individual's acceptance of his or her own personal and social responsibilities. Behavior, which is not in keeping with standards acceptable to the University community, is often symptomatic of misaligned attitudes, misconceptions, and emotional crises. Addressing these misaligned attitudes, misconceptions, and emotional crises through education is an essential part of the disciplinary process.

An educational approach to discipline is employed whenever possible. The University Student Conduct System and appeals processes are designed to provide and help maintain an atmosphere that is conducive to academic pursuits. There are times, however, when stringent student conduct measures against a student or a group of students are imposed, such as suspension or expulsion. These are instituted only when appropriate.

University disciplinary processes are not courts of law and follow procedures that are less restrictive and non-legalistic. The hearings are administrative procedures, which are used to determine whether the student has been in violation of University rules. For instance, the standard of proof is not "beyond a reasonable doubt" as it is in the courts. The standard of proof is "preponderance of the evidence." Preponderance of the evidence is defined as the greater weight of the evidence; that is, evidence that outweighs or overbalances the evidence opposed to it. Preponderance means evidence that is more probable or more persuasive. It is the quality of evidence that is weighed.

Quality may or may not be identical with quantity. If the weight of the evidence is equally balanced, the complainant has not proven the charge. The burden for proving an alleged violation rests with the complainant. Attorneys are present at court settings and speak on behalf of the accused. Attorneys are not permitted in University student judiciary proceedings. The University General Counsel's office provides procedural advice in Conduct matters. Representation by the General Counsel in a student conduct proceeding is prohibited. University disciplinary hearing officers or boards have much latitude in deciding what to admit as evidence and what weight to give to various parts of testimony. The appellate systems for courts and the University conduct process also differ. In a court system, one cannot be tried twice for the same offense. In a university setting, there can be multiple levels of jurisdiction that might operate in individual cases.

The Student Code of Conduct shall apply to conduct that occurs on University premises; at University sponsored activities, and to off-campus conduct that adversely affects a member of the University Community or the reputation of the institution. Each student shall be responsible for his or her conduct from the time of application for admission through the actual awarding of a degree, even though conduct may occur before classes begin or after classes end, as well as during the academic year and during periods between terms of actual enrollment. The Student Code shall apply to a student's conduct even if the student withdraws from school while a disciplinary matter is pending. All University investigations shall be conducted in an ethical manner, keeping in mind the rights of students, and the following regulations shall be strictly observed.

Principles for Collegiate Conduct

Alabama A & M University students are expected to exhibit appropriate, responsible behavior at all times as a student on or off-campus. Some of the characteristics of that behavior are:

- Respect of Human Dignity: It is expected that students will act with concern for the physical and emotional wellbeing of themselves and others.
- Fostering Community: Students are expected to participate in the development of a community that is mutually supportive, responsible, and accountable.
- Positive Conduct: Students are expected to know the minimum standards of behavior required as members of this community, and to be personally responsible for conducting themselves in ways appropriate to these standards.
- Personal Responsibility: When students enroll at Alabama A & M University; they accept the personal responsibility to uphold the honor and ideals of the University in all areas of University life and to maintain high standards of personal behavior. It must be understood that students are held responsible for their behavior at all times, both on and off campus. In addition, students are responsible for the actions of their guests on campus and at campus events.

By registering for academic credit and living in University housing, students agree to adhere to the policies detailed in this handbook. Students are subject to the rules and regulations contained in this Handbook. The University reserves the right to make changes to these regulations at any time, without notice.

Conduct Authority

By virtue of the bylaws and policies of the Board of Trustees of Alabama Agricultural and Mechanical University, the President of Alabama A&M University is charged with the responsibility of maintaining “appropriate standards of conduct of students.” This duty has been delegated to the Vice President for Student Affairs. The Vice President for Student Affairs or Designee (Conduct Administrator) is authorized to expel, dismiss or place limitations on continued attendance and to levy sanctions for disciplinary violations.

Disciplinary Responsibility

The Associate Vice President for Student Affairs, or designee (Conduct Coordinator), is responsible for receiving and examining disciplinary matters related to the behavior of students, student groups, and/or student organizations. Furthermore, the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs, or designee, is responsible for assigning cases to the appropriate committees based on the behavior, status, and caseloads.

Jurisdiction of the University

Generally, University jurisdiction and discipline resides with conduct that occurs on university owned or managed premises or which adversely affects the University community and/or the pursuit of its objectives. If, however, this activity occurs off campus, through some other medium, and affects or is detrimental to the University community and/or the pursuit of University objectives, the university reserves the right to address the issue.

Conduct Rules and Regulations

Any student found to have committed any misconduct as defined by the Student Code is subject to the disciplinary sanctions outlined herein.

Violation of Law and University Discipline

1. If a student is cited only with an off-campus violation of federal, state, or local laws, but not with any other violation of the Code, disciplinary action may be taken and sanctions imposed for misconduct that is detrimental to or demonstrates disregard for the University community and/or its pursuit of University objectives.
2. University disciplinary proceedings may be instituted against a student cited for a violation of a law that is also a violation of this Student Code if both violations result from the same factual situation, without regard to pending civil litigation in court or criminal arrest and prosecution. Proceedings under this Student Code may be carried out prior to, simultaneously with, or following civil or criminal proceedings off-campus.
3. An individual whose conduct violates a federal, state, or local law, as established by a preponderance of the evidence as outlined herein, need not be criminally charged or convicted for their conduct to be deemed a violation of the Code of Student Conduct.
4. When a student is cited by federal, state, or local authorities for a violation of law, the University will not request or agree to special consideration for that individual because of their status as a student. If the alleged offense is also the subject of a proceeding under the student code, however, the University may advise off-campus authorities of the existence of the student code and of how such matters will be handled internally within the University community. The University will cooperate fully with law enforcement and other agencies in the enforcement of the law and in the conditions imposed by courts for the rehabilitation of student violators.

STUDENT RIGHTS IN THE CONDUCT CODE PROCESS

A student or student organization alleged to have violated University policy is entitled to certain rights to ensure a fair and impartial hearing. Students have the right to:

- A. Receive advance notice of the alleged violation(s), who to contact for a meeting, and the date by which that contact must occur (contact is typically made within 72 business hours but can take up to or exceed 7 business days during peak periods).
- B. Present his/her/their or its (organization) version of the events in question.
- C. Be accompanied by an advisor(s) (up to two). Advisors may not speak for the student but may participate in the conduct process by quietly sitting in on the hearing.
- D. Have witness(es) (up to three) present information on his/her/their or its behalf.
- E. Choose not to attend or participate in a scheduled hearing.
- F. Challenge the objectivity of the hearing body for cause if he/she/they or it believes that a hearing officer/board member may be biased or have a conflict of interest.
- G. Appeal the outcome of the hearing.

Note: Any student who commits a conduct violation during their disciplinary probation period or is found in possession of a firearm, will automatically be sanctioned without a scheduled hearing.

A group or organization may be held responsible for the actions and behaviors of its members and guests. The decision to hold a group or organization responsible, as a whole, is ultimately determined by examining all the circumstances of a situation, and the case can be handled collaboratively between the Office of Student Activities and Leadership Development and the Office of Judicial Affairs. - The organization, or any member acting on its behalf, fails to satisfactorily complete the terms of any disciplinary sanction or outcome.

Risk Management

Because risk is inherent to the functioning of any entity, especially collegiate, student-led organizations, risk management should be viewed as a university-wide culture that is intra-connected through campus departments to student organizations. To sustain quality risk management habits, every employee and student at the university must participate fully and remain committed to the AAMU culture of prevention – seeking to move beyond simply responding to events and additionally taking responsibility for individual opportunities to evoke change in our organization/s. The key to establishing and maintaining a culture of risk management is to avoid combining over-confidence with under-experience by practicing humility. Student organizations are a vital part of higher education, but they carry substantial risks. The safety of participants and the protection of facilities during events and activities sponsored by Registered Student Organizations (“RSOs”) of Alabama A&M University (“AAMU”) is the goal of this policy.

Conduct Provisions

1. Individual and group. The Student code of conduct applies to both individual student and RSO activities. All organizations must comply with all applicable university policies as well as federal, state, and local laws.
2. Alcohol and illegal drugs/controlled substances. All RSOs must comply with applicable laws and university policies related to alcohol, drugs, and other controlled substances when hosting events. No person may possess, use, provide, distribute, sell and/or manufacture alcohol, illegal drugs or other controlled substances while on university-owned or operated premises or at any activity or event sponsored or endorsed by the organization(s).
3. Hazing. Alabama A&M University expressly prohibits hazing both on-campus, off-campus, and in all facets of the educational programs of AAMU. All RSOs must comply with the applicable laws and university policies regarding hazing.
4. Non-discrimination. No RSO shall willfully harass, discriminate against, or interfere with the activities or legitimate rights of any person in a way that deprives that person of due consideration as an individual. RSOs are expressly prohibited from discrimination on the basis of age, ethnicity, gender, disability, color, national origin, religion, sexual orientation or veteran status, and other factors.

Disciplinary Record Retention

Disciplinary sanctions, with the exception of University expulsion, shall not be made part of the student's permanent academic record (official transcript), but shall become part of the student's confidential disciplinary record, subject to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).

Pending cases will be retained as long as is administratively necessary as determined by the University Conduct Administrator, the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs. Cases involving expulsion or suspension will be retained indefinitely. Other student conduct files will be retained for seven (7) years following the incident or until the student leaves the university, whichever is longer. If a student under the age of twenty-one (21) is found responsible for a violation of University policy involving alcohol and/or other drugs or the weapons policy, the University may notify the student's parent(s) or guardian(s).

Violations of the Code of Student Conduct are not noted on a student's academic transcript. If a student is expelled or suspended from the university, a letter shall be attached to the student's academic transcript. This action shall be taken to notify other schools or prospective employers that the student is not presently in good standing with the university. In cases of suspension, a student, upon eligibility to return to Alabama A&M University, may request that the letter be removed. This request must be submitted in writing to Student Conduct who will notify the Registrar.

Conduct Verification

Students and alumni who are applying to academic institutions or for employment which requires a disclosure of prior conduct information are encouraged to honestly answer the questions that are posed regarding conduct history. If you are unsure of your prior conduct history, please submit an e-mail with your name and ID to conductofficer@aamu.edu.

Please note that the Office of Judicial Affairs does not release prior conduct information over the phone, as we are unable to verify the identity of the caller.

Any document requiring academic and conduct verification can be dropped off, e-mailed or mailed to the Office of Judicial Affairs and it will be forwarded to the Registrar's Office for academic verification. Any document requiring only conduct verification can be dropped off or e-mailed directly to the Office of Judicial Affairs located on the lower level of the Ralph Lee Student Center.

Please make sure that you have completed the following items:

- Signed and dated the student authorization section of the form.
- Enclosed a stamped and addressed envelope for each certification.
- If you are not providing a stamped envelope please leave your phone number or e-mail address so that you can be contacted when the form is ready for pick up at the Office of Judicial Affairs.
- Take any document requiring a character/personal reference to a Professor or Dean's office for completion of an evaluation. Please make sure that they leave any sections related to dates of attendance or academic or disciplinary standing blank. The Registrar and/or Office of Judicial Affairs are the only AAMU officials who can verify that information.

The disciplinary/conduct record verification process usually takes 7-10 business days. Please allow more time during holiday break periods and application deadline windows when a large number of forms are received. For questions or more information regarding conduct verification please email the Office of Judicial Affairs at conductofficer@aamu.edu.

Disciplinary Record Removal

Twelve months after completion of any imposed sanction(s), a student may request in writing to the Office of Judicial Affairs that a minor conduct violation be removed from their student disciplinary file.

In the written request, the student should include what they have learned from the incident, how their behavior has changed since the incident and any steps taken to address the behavior. Generally, removal is not available if the student's record includes more than one violation of the Code of Student Conduct; sanction(s) that were not completed by the required deadline; an incident resulting in personal injury, property damage, providing alcohol to minors, possession and/or distribution of drugs; violation of the weapons policy; sexual misconduct, discrimination or harassment; criminal behavior; or suspension/expulsion. All removal decisions shall be made at the sole discretion of the University Conduct Administrator.

The Office of Judicial Affairs will attempt to avoid releasing a removed violation pursuant to proper third-party requests, but will, when it deems necessary, explain the removal process in response to third-party requests. If a removed violation is disclosed, as required by law or otherwise, it will be done in the sole discretion of the Office of Judicial Affairs and will include an explanation that the violation has been removed from the student's disciplinary record pursuant to this provision.

In addition, reports and/or other correspondences maintained by other university departments, local and/or campus police, or another reporting agency are not subject to this removal provision. Further, previous disciplinary record checks reported by the Office of Judicial Affairs or another university department will not be affected by this process.

Note: Students found in violation of the weapons/firearms policy risk immediate suspension or expulsion from the University.

Students must use their assigned Alabama A&M University student e-mail account, in order to receive all University correspondence, including information pertaining to student conduct violations.

Students found responsible for violating the Student Codes of Conduct may be prohibited from a specified affiliation or from representing the University as a member of an organization or a University-sponsored activity.

All sanctions imposed on students who have been found responsible of violation(s) are based solely on individual circumstances. No case is exactly the same as another, and sanctions will most likely differ in similar instances. It is primarily the decision of the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs, Conduct Coordinator, Residence Hall Director, or the Conduct Board to determine the sanction imposed on each student.

Depending on the severity of an incident, students may face criminal charges off campus. If a student has already been to court for an alleged incident, then the student has fulfilled their obligation to any violation of law. Meaning, the student has met the requirement set forth under Alabama Law for the designated county. However, the student will still be required to meet their obligation to Alabama A&M University's policies and procedures outlined in this handbook. Consequently, even if the court finds a student "not guilty" or determined there was not sufficient evidence to even "hear" the case in court, the student will still be required to meet with the Office of Student Conduct for a hearing. The University conduct process runs separately and concurrently to any process the law requires, and determines responsibility based on the preponderance of evidence. Under these circumstances, this process is not considered double jeopardy.

Sanctions

1. When it has been determined that a student is responsible for violating any provision of this Code, one or more sanctions may be imposed. The following is a non-exhaustive list of potential sanctions that may be utilized individually or in combination:

- a. Warning - A notice in writing to the student.
- b. Probation - a. A written reprimand for violation for specified regulations. Probation is for a designated period of time and includes the probability of more severe disciplinary sanctions, including suspension or expulsion, if the student is found to be violating any University regulation(s) during the probationary period.
- c. Loss of Privileges - Denial of specified privileges for a designated period of time.
- d. Educational Assignment - A student is required to complete a specified educational assignment related to the violation committed. This may include completion of a workshop, seminar, class, report, paper, project, alcohol or drug program, consultation, assessment, evaluation, and/or counseling.
- e. Fines - Based on the violation and number of offenses, fines ranging from $50 - $250 may be imposed.
- f. Restitution - Compensation for loss, damage, or injury. This may take the form of appropriate service and/or monetary or material replacement.
- g. Parent Notification – a written notice to parent/guardian(s) can be sent as a result of violations related to the alcohol (under 21), drugs, weapons, and physical violence.
- h. Counseling Consultation- the student will attend an individual or group counseling session through Health and Counseling Services.
- i. Online Education Course – Based on the violation, students could be assigned to enroll, pay for and complete an online course.
- j. Interim or Supportive Measures - actions taken while a resolution to a situation is still pending
- k. Discretionary Sanctions - Work assignments, service to the University or community as well as other related discretionary assignments (such assignments must have the prior approval of the Conduct Administrator), etc.

- l. No Contact Order - The student may have no further contact or communications with a student who was their accuser or otherwise involved with the Code violation.
 - m. Residence Hall Access - Separation of the student from the residence halls for a definite period of time, after which the student is eligible to return. Condition(s) for readmission may be specified. A student may also be required to transfer to a different residence hall on campus. Permanent separation of the student from the residence halls may also occur.
 - n. Campus Ban - Order, warning, or directive prohibiting access to University property. This may take the form of a formal Trespass Warning issued by the Alabama A&M Police Department.
 - o. University Suspension - Separation of the student from the University for a definite or indefinite period of time. When a student is eligible to return, conditions for readmission may be specified.
 - p. Deferred Suspension - The student may be subject to delayed suspension, if the University subsequently determines they have failed to comply with the conditions placed upon continued enrollment at Alabama A&M or if the student is found responsible for additional conduct violation(s).
 - q. University Expulsion - Separation of the student from the University permanently. A student permanently expelled is prohibited from reapplying to the University in the future or from earning a degree from any of its colleges or schools. If a disciplinary action results in a recommendation that expulsion is the appropriate sanction, then the Vice President for Student Affairs shall review the sanction and shall make the final decision to expel after consultation with the President of the University. Because a decision to expel a student is made after consultation with the President, a student has no right to request a review of the sanction of expulsion.
2. When it has been determined that a student organization is responsible for violating any provision of this Code, one or more sanctions may be imposed. The following is a non-exhaustive list of potential sanctions that may be utilized individually or in combination:
 - a. Any of the sanctions listed in paragraphs (1)a through (1)n above.
 - b. Loss of or limitation on social event privileges.
 - c. Loss of preferred seating at University sponsored events.
 - d. Loss of recognition as a student organization. The Division of Student Affairs may notify any national or regional governing body with which the organization is associated or which sponsors social, academic, or sports events when such suspension is imposed.
3. The Conduct Administrator shall advise the student or organization in writing of any sanction(s) imposed. If the Conduct Administrator, in consultation with the Director of Student Activities and Leadership Development, decides expulsion is the appropriate sanction, then that decision will be communicated to the Vice President for Student Affairs.
4. Sanctions will vary based upon the facts and circumstances of each individual situation. Sanctions are generally progressive in nature and include the probability of more severe discipline if the student is found responsible for multiple or subsequent Code violations. Depending on the Code violation(s), however, more significant sanctions, including immediate suspension or expulsion, may be more appropriate than progressive measures. Any prior Code violations the student has previously been found to have committed may be considered in imposing sanctions.
5. Similarly, if a Code violation is determined by a preponderance of the evidence to have been committed or motivated by prejudice toward a person or group because of protected factors, which include genetic information, race, color, religion, national origin, sex (which includes sexual orientation, gender identity, and gender expression), age, disability or protected veteran status, such a discriminatory purpose may be treated as an aggravating factor in determining the appropriate sanction(s).

6. 1. In some circumstances, the Conduct Administrator may elect to defer a sanction. For example, a deferred suspension means the sanction does not go into effect as long as the student complies with all requirements the Office of Student Conduct imposes. In those instances where the student completes all expectations during the designated period, the student's record will not show that the deferred sanction was ever imposed.
7. 1. A student or organization that fails to complete or comply with any sanctions may be subject to additional measures from the Office of Student Conduct, including, but not limited to, a disciplinary hold preventing a student from registering for classes and/or further charges under the Code for failure to comply. A student organization may not be able to register an event, reserve a space on campus, or utilize student organizational seating at athletic events if they are on hold.

Rights of Victims

In a conduct hearing, both the accused student and the victim have rights. The rights of the victim are listed below:

Hearing Procedures

The purpose of the preliminary, administrative or conduct board hearing is to reach a decision regarding the accused responsibility for violation of University rules or regulations, to provide due process for the accused, and to recommend a sanction. Such decisions may affect students, groups, and student organizations and their relationship to the University. Administrative hearing decisions shall be determined by the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee.

Conduct Board decisions shall be majority vote. If a student, student group, or student organization fails to attend the hearing after being notified, it will be held in their absence. Attendance at a preliminary, administrative or conduct board hearing is limited to only those individuals directly involved or those requested by the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee. The confidentiality of all student cases should be maintained. The outline below will be followed for hearings:

In the event a decision cannot be made within three (3) business days, the accused will be informed by the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee. Note: The accused/complainant may not communicate or reach out to any member of the Conduct Board concerning the pending outcome or decision of the hearing.

Note: Students participating in the judicial process must abide by the University dress code at all judicial proceedings. Failure to abide by the University dress code will result in a recess of the Judicial proceeding until such time the Vice President for Student Affairs or designee sees fit.

The accused student, student group, or student organization may be accompanied by a representative(s) of their choice; however, their representative(s) is not allowed to speak during the hearing, with the exception of providing instruction regarding your Fifth Amendment Rights. The role of the representative(s) is to support the accused student or witness throughout the hearing, but that role is passive and will not include directly questioning witnesses, or addressing the hearing committee. If a student, student organization, or student group plans to bring a representative(s) and/or witness(es) to the hearing, the student, student group, or student organization must notify the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee in writing of their name at least 48-hours prior to the hearing.

Violation of Residence Hall Regulations

The Residence Hall Director of the appropriate residence hall will handle violations of residence hall regulations. Based upon the nature of the alleged violations and the past conduct of the accused, the University Conduct Officer shall determine if the Residence Hall Director Option is appropriate. The Student has the right outside of Hall Director adjudication to request a hearing by a University Conduct Officer or by Conduct Board. If the Hall Director Option is deemed appropriate, it will be administered as follows:

The accused student will be notified, in writing, that he/she is suspected of an alleged violation; of the circumstances of the violation; of his/her rights under the conduct system.

When allegations of individual misconduct are referred to the University Conduct Officer, the student will be scheduled for a conference. In the event that the student wishes to waive his/her right to a hearing before the Conduct Board and have his/her case determined administratively, he/she may request the University Conduct Officer to assume jurisdiction. If the University Conduct Officer accepts jurisdiction, he/she may, after determining that a violation was committed, impose an appropriate penalty. Once a student has been informed of his/her rights and has voluntarily waived in writing his/her right to a hearing before the board, the action of the University Conduct Officer shall be final except in cases of indefinite suspension or permanent dismissal that may be appealed to the University Appeals Officer. If the matter is not resolved by the conference, the University Conduct Officer shall refer it to the Conduct Board.

Operation of the Conduct Board

All 18 members of the Conduct Board will receive a formal education on the conduct process before being allowed to hear a case. From the 18 members, six will be chosen to hear a case, two staff members, two faculty members, and two students. Selection of members to hear cases will be based on 1) rotation, 2) potential conflict of interest, and 3) availability. A representative from each constituency must be present to hear a case. A majority vote by the Conduct Board is necessary to decide upon a case.

There are certain times of the year and certain circumstances that may remove the option of the Conduct Board. During this time, cases will be adjudicated by the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs, designee and/or a short conduct board. A short conduct board is comprised of one faculty member, one staff member, one student member, and a presiding chair. In the event a student is unable to serve on the short board, a faculty or staff member will hold the third board position.

The option of a Conduct Board hearing may be removed:

- When the Conduct Board members are undergoing training.
- During times when the University is not in session.
- During final exam weeks of both fall and spring semesters.
- During summer session, between spring finals and the beginning of fall semester.
- Any time the Conduct Board cannot meet.
- In special cases during which administrative intervention has occurred.
- In cases where the Conduct Board feels that the case is not within its jurisdiction.

Conduct Terms and Definitions

Expulsion: Permanent dismissal from the University. Expulsion is the most severe sanction that can be imposed upon a student for a violation. The student who receives a sanction of expulsion is not eligible to apply for readmission to the university. When a student is expelled from the University, the student's relationship with the University is permanently severed, and the student is persona non-gratis.

Suspension: Dismissal from the University for a specific period of time following severe acts of violation of the Student Codes of Conduct or violation of a present probationary status. Suspensions are recorded on the student's permanent record. Students suspended from the University are required to return their student identification card and room keys and may not return to campus for the duration of their suspension, except to conduct official business with an administrative officer or faculty member, and then only with prior permission of the Vice President for Student Affairs or designee. If a student returns to the campus without permission during the period of suspension, his or her eligibility to return to Alabama A&M University will be threatened and he/she will be subject to arrest. During the period of suspension, the student is not eligible or entitled to receive any University services. His or her name is deleted from the roster of enrolled students and from the faculty class roll. The student will not get credit for course assignment, papers, projects, make-up work, or other course-related work during the period of suspension. During the period of suspension, therefore, the student's relationship with the university is terminated, and he or she is, in fact persona non-gratis.

Following a fully served suspension period, a student who wishes to re-enter the University must make a written request to be readmitted to the University. The student must present a typed letter to the Vice President for Student Affairs no later than (30 days prior to the beginning of the semester for which he/she is asking to be allowed to return (e.g. letter must be received 30 days before the fall semester is to begin if it is the semester during which the student wishes to return to the University. The Vice President for Student Affairs or designee will review the file of the student and determine the student's eligibility to return to the University following a suspension period. Regardless of the fact that a student has served the specified amount of a suspension period, it is left to the Vice President for Student Affairs or designee discretion whether to allow re-admittance. The types of suspension are as follows: Suspension, Interim Suspension, and Indefinite Suspension. They are defined below:

1. Suspension. Suspension period begins with an existing semester and continues through that semester; however, suspension may become effective at the beginning of a specified semester (usually the following semester) and continue through that semester and future ones. All students and student organizations returning to "active" status at Alabama A&M University following a disciplinary suspension will be placed on mandatory "Probationary Status" for one calendar year. Any violations of the probationary status within this time period may result in an additional suspension effective immediately and continuing throughout the time period recommended by the Vice President for Student Affairs. Dismissal or Suspension from the University to be served for a period up to (1) one year.
2. Interim Suspension. Suspension that is immediately put into effect when violations are alleged. The suspension will remain in effect until the disciplinary hearing is held or the student has completed requirements of the sanction imposed. Suspensions of this type are usually temporary; however, if the student is found responsible for the violation(s), or fails to satisfy the requirements of the sanction imposed, the interim suspension may be changed to another sanction, including suspension or expulsion.

3. Indefinite Suspension. Dismissal or Suspension from the University to be served for a period of not less than (1) one year.

Note: Failure to complete an assigned sanction within the allotted time frame will result in the student receiving a judicial hold on his/her student account and/or suspension from the University.

Interim Suspension Warning: When a student has an Interim Suspension Warning that student may not be allowed on any AAMU property without approval from the Vice President for Student Affairs or University Police Department. Trespass Warning can be subject only to areas of campus or different campus events. It is issued to student at first contact with Campus Police, and a copy is sent to the Office of Student Conduct.

Disciplinary Probation: When a student's conduct is in violation of Alabama A&M University Community Standards, but is not sufficiently serious to warrant expulsion or suspension. A student on disciplinary probation shall have their conduct under review for a specified period of time. This sanction may require regular meetings with an appropriate official to ascertain and evaluate compliance with student rules. Additional restrictions or conditions also may be imposed, depending on the nature and seriousness of the misconduct. If there is a finding of responsibility for subsequent violations of the Community Standards or a failure to comply with established terms of Disciplinary Probation during this period of time, Disciplinary Probation may be expanded to include the following:

Ineligibility to hold an office in any student organization recognized by the University or to hold any elected or appointed office of the University

- Ineligibility to hold an office in any student organization recognized by the University or to hold any elected or appointed office of the University
- Become a member of or represent any NPHC or Non-NPHC organization
- Ineligibility to represent the University to anyone outside the University community in any way, including representing the University at any official function

NOTE: ANY SANCTION(S) NOT COMPLETED BY THE END OF THE SEMESTER IN WHICH IT IS ASSIGNED WILL RESULT IN A JUDICIAL FINE.

Student concerns about the judicial system should be directed to the University Appeals Officer, the Vice President for Student Affairs. It should be understood that the University conduct system in no way supersedes civil and criminal legal processes. The University may, at its discretion, take disciplinary action in advance of legal proceedings. Students are encouraged to keep their parents or legal guardians informed of their disciplinary status.

Appeals Process

A student, student group, or student organization may submit an appeal to the University Appeals Officer within 48 hours after the decision of the administrative or conduct committee hearing is reached. A decision may be appealed for one or more of the following reasons:

- 1) Failure to adhere to guidelines as outlined in the Code of Student Conduct: To determine whether the hearing was conducted fairly in light of the charges and information presented, and in conformity with prescribed procedures.
Severity of the conduct outcome(s): To determine whether conduct outcome(s) imposed were
- 2) appropriate for the violation of the Code of Student Conduct for which the charged party was found responsible.
- 3) Information not available at the time of the original hearing: To determine whether new information which would influence or alter the decision of the hearing became available. For new information to be considered, such information and/or facts were not known, or could not have been known, to the person appealing at the time of the original hearing.

Filing an Appeal

All appeals must be submitted in writing (typed) to the University Appeals Officer within 48 hours after the student, student group, or student organization has received notification of a decision rendered in their particular case. The appeal request must state the specific grounds (new evidence and/or the Conduct Board failed to follow proper hearing procedures) on which the student, student group, or student organization should be granted an appeal.

The appeal request must also be clear and specific, as the University Appeals Officer may decide whether to grant an appeal based solely on the written request of the student.

After the letter of appeal has been received, the University Appeals Officer will determine whether there are grounds to grant an appeal and notify the student, student group, or student organization of the decision within four (4) business days after receipt of the student, student group, or student organization request. If a conference is needed to consider the matter further, the notice shall include the time and place at which the student is to be present.

The sanction(s) imposed by the Vice President for Student Affairs or designee does not become effective until all available appeals have been exhausted by the student, student group, or student organization within the time periods designated for appeals. An exception occurs when, in the determination of the Vice President for Student Affairs, the student, student group, or student organization continued presence on campus constitutes a clear and present danger to the students and/or others in the University community. In such instances, the student, student group, or student organization will be asked to leave the campus; however, the student, student group, or student organization rights to request an appeal within the designated time periods shall not be compromised.

The decision of the University Appeals Officer to grant an appeal, is final, except in those cases involving expulsion from the University. In cases involving expulsion, the student may appeal the sanction to the President of the University, in writing, within twenty-four (24) hours of receipt of the decision of the Appeals Officer. Appeal requests of this nature must also be typewritten. The President is not obligated to confer with the student, and may choose to review only the written information to decide.

If a student chooses not to request an appeal within the specified time period, the decision of the Vice President for Student Affairs, designee, or Conduct Board is final. It is, therefore, imperative that the student abides by the stipulations of his/her sanction.

Reporting

AAMU encourages students who have experienced any form of sexual misconduct to report the incident promptly, to seek all available assistance, to pursue Code of Conduct charges, and where appropriate, to pursue criminal prosecution of the offender. AAMU takes complaints very seriously and will work with complaining parties to ensure their safety and remedy the situation. Chairperson, Deans, Department Heads, and Supervisors have a duty to identify and report discriminatory behaviors. Employees and people with responsibility for supervising or ensuring the safety of others (including student employees in the course of their employment duties) have a duty to report discriminatory behaviors observed or reported to them.

Take any immediate action necessary to ensure your safety and physical well-being are addressed first; and, if warranted, seek immediate medical attention at an area hospital.

There are four effective ways to report Sexual Misconduct:

OTHER POLICIES

Anti-Hazing Policy: It is the policy of Alabama A & M University that hazing activities of any type is inconsistent with education and is prohibited at all times. No student, including leaders of student organizations, may plan, encourage, or engage in hazing. Hazing is defined as doing any act or coercing another person to do any act of initiation into any organization that causes, or creates a risk of causing, psychological or physical harm to any person. Hazing includes actions or situations that could or do result in mental, emotional, or physical discomfort, embarrassment, ridicule, or endangerment whether intentional, for fun, or by consent. Hazing is also coercing another person to violate any university policy or law.

Obvious examples of hazing include but are not limited to:

- Whipping
- Paddling or beating
- Forced calisthenics
- Forced exposure to weather
- Pre and post pledging as a way to gain “respect”
- Forced or required consumption of any food, liquor, beverage, drug, or any substance
- Any brutal or cruel treatment; and, any activity which subjects any student or other person to ridicule, mental stress
- Lining up for the purpose of membership (that is not directly related to presentation shows)
- Undue physical endurance
- Forced social media or public displays

Administrators, faculty members, and all other employees of the University should be alerted to possible situations, circumstances or events, which might include hazing. If hazing or planned hazing is discovered, involved students will be informed by the University of the prohibition contained in this policy and will be required to end all membership intake or organizational initiation activities immediately until an investigation is completed. All hazing activities will be reported immediately to the Office Student Activities and Leadership Development.

Students violate the code of conduct if they do not report incidents of hazing or potential hazing to the Office of Student Activities and Leadership Development. Administrators, faculty members, students, and all other employees who fail to abide by this policy may be subject to disciplinary action of the University and may be liable for civil and criminal penalties in accordance with federal, state, and local laws.

Hate-Free Policy: Alabama A & M University is committed to fostering ethical and moral values that are consistent with its mission. Among the central values of the University is the inherent dignity of every individual as well as the right of each person to hold and to express his or her viewpoint. When views conflict it is the obligation of members of the community to respect other perspectives.

The University welcomes students, faculty, staff, and visitors from diverse backgrounds, and it works to ensure that they will find the AAMU environment free of discriminatory conduct. It is unacceptable - and a violation of University policy - to harass, abuse, or discriminate against any person because of age, race, gender, ethnicity, sexual orientation, religion, or disability.

Members of the AAMU community affected by hate-motivated offenses are strongly encouraged to report these incidents. Such offenses can be reported to a variety of offices on campus including: Office of Student Affairs, Office of Judicial Affairs, Residence Life, and Public Safety. Reporting hate-motivated offenses does not in itself constitute a formal complaint nor compel one to file a formal complaint of misconduct. However, it does allow those affected by such violations to have a support system and an avenue for recourse. A formal complaint must be documented.

Students proven responsible for hate-motivated violations are subject to a range of disciplinary sanctions up to and including disciplinary expulsion from Alabama A & M University. The Office of Judicial Affairs may impose harsher sanctions when behavior is proven to be motivated by hate.

HIV Policy: The University has adopted this policy in response to the epidemic of infection with Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV), the agent that causes Acquired Immunodeficiency Syndrome (AIDS). The goals of the policy are:

Inspection: Scheduled inspections by University officials, with the exception of daily janitorial and maintenance operations, shall be preceded, if possible, by twenty-four hours' notice to the residents. During the inspection, there will be no search of drawers or closets or personal belongings, unless there is probable cause as determined by the Department of Public Safety.

Search: University officials will not enter a room for purposes of search except in compliance with campus, city, state and federal laws, or with the permission of the resident, or the written permission of the Vice President for Student Affairs or his/her designee.

University officials shall have, if possible, the Residence Hall Director or his or her designee accompany them on the search. Additionally, officers of the Department of Public Safety can accompany University officials as long as they are not acting in the capacity of certified police officers.

Prohibited items (alcohol, drugs, drug paraphernalia, weapons, etc.) found during an inspection, search, or emergency will be confiscated. Student(s) assigned to the room in question may be arrested, trespassed, written up for violating the Student Code of Conduct, and/or lose their housing privileges.

Alcohol Policy

Alabama A&M University is subject to the laws of the State of Alabama. Consumption, purchase, possession, or transportation of any alcoholic beverages by students on the campus of Alabama A&M University is prohibited. It is also unlawful for any person to knowingly provide alcoholic beverages to anyone under the legal drinking age of 21. Students are expected to obey the law and to take responsibility for their own conduct, off-campus. Students may be required to successfully complete an alcohol education class if they are found in violation of the University's alcohol policy. In addition, the University maintains the following regulations regarding alcohol:

1. The advertising, promotion, consumption, and sale of alcohol are prohibited.
2. Individual students and student organizations are responsible for their conduct, and the conduct of their guests and for promoting compliance with Alabama laws and University policy.
3. University faculty and staff are expected to promote compliance with Alabama laws and University policies regarding alcohol. Regardless of any prior approval, the University may withdraw approval for any campus event or activity if the event or activity becomes unsafe, disruptive, or creates an environment conducive to violations of University policy or Alabama law. Social event guidelines for registered student organizations are available from the Office of Student Activities & Leadership Development.

Drug Use and Abuse Policy: In accordance with state and federal laws, it is illegal for persons to possess, use or sell illegal drugs, and to abuse or distribute prescription drugs. Included in these categories are: opiates, barbiturates, amphetamines, marijuana, hallucinogens, illegal steroids, date-rape drugs, and other illegal or prescription drugs. Not only is it unlawful, but also the presence, use and abuse of these drugs within the University community is contrary to the intellectual and educational purposes for which the University exists. Indeed, possession of these substances may well be an indication that the student is not constructively engaged in academic endeavors. Student Affairs staff members and counseling services are available to provide counseling or referral services to students with concerns about drugs or alcohol use.

HIV Policy: The University has adopted this policy in response to the epidemic of infection with Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV), the agent that causes Acquired Immunodeficiency Syndrome (AIDS). The goals of the policy are:

The University has adopted this policy in response to the epidemic of infection with Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV), the agent that causes Acquired Immunodeficiency Syndrome (AIDS). The goals of the policy are:

- A. To provide education, information, and counseling concerning the causes, effects, transmissibility, and treatment of HIV;
- B. To safeguard the personal rights of individuals with HIV;

- D. To comply with the requirements of applicable federal and state laws relating to HIV.

As a matter of University policy, information about the existence of HIV is medical information, not administrative data. In recognition of the serious potential for discrimination against and mistreatment of persons with HIV, the University will handle information concerning any aspect of HIV in a student with care and sensitivity to the privacy concerns involved.

The University will not include information about HIV in any routine personal record. Only when administrative action is specifically related to HIV – positive status is necessary will such information be recorded. In those circumstances, such information shall be maintained in a separate administrative file and accorded confidentiality as a medical record.

Service and Support Animal Policy

Alabama Agricultural and Mechanical University (AAMU) recognizes the importance of Service and Support Animals to individuals with disabilities and has adopted a policy to ensure that people with disabilities who require the use of service or support animals as a reasonable accommodation receive the benefit of the work, tasks, or therapeutic support performed by such animals. AAMU's service and support animal policy complies with all applicable Titles of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), and Fair Housing Act (FHA). As such, AAMU permits all individuals with disabilities, which include employees, students, and visitors who require service animal access to all facilities, university owned housing, transit vehicles, and programs held on the campus of AAMU; whereas individuals with disabilities who require assistance/comfort/therapeutic animals are only permitted access in university owned housing provided certain conditions are met as outlined by Disability Services (DS).

The ADA and FHA/Section 504 Definition of Service Animals

The Department of Justice (DOJ) amendments to its regulations for Titles II and III of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) limits the definition of a service animal to include dogs that are individually trained to do work or perform tasks for the benefit of an individual with a disability, including a physical, sensory, psychiatric, intellectual, or other mental disability. In addition to the provisions about service dogs, revised ADA regulations have a new, separate provision about miniature horses that have been individually trained to do work or perform tasks for people with disabilities. Miniature horses generally range in height from 24 inches to 34 inches measured to the shoulders and generally weigh between 70 to 100 pounds. The regulations set out four assessment factors to assist entities in determining whether miniature horses can be accommodated in their facility. The assessment factors are:

- a) whether the miniature horse is housebroken;
- b) whether the miniature horse is under the owner's control;
- c) whether the facility can accommodate the miniature horse's type, size, and weight; and
- d) whether the miniature horse's presence will not compromise legitimate safety requirements necessary for safe operation of the facility.

An assistance animal is not a pet. It is an animal that works, aids, or performs tasks for the benefit of a person with a disability. Assistance animals perform many disability related functions, including but not limited to, guiding individuals who are blind or have low vision, alerting individuals who are deaf or hard of hearing to sounds, providing protection or rescue assistance, pulling a wheelchair, fetching items, alerting persons to impending seizures, or providing emotional support to persons with disabilities who have a disability-related need for such support. For purposes of reasonable accommodation requests, neither the FHAct nor Section 504 requires an assistance animal to be individually trained or certified. While dogs are the most common type of assistance animal, other animals such as miniature horses can also serve as assistance animals. AAMU does not allow any individual to keep more than one service animal for a disability (or identified symptom or effect of a disability) for which the animal is needed.

Registration and Management of Service Animals

The Office of Disability Services (ODS) will determine if an animal meets the criteria of a service animal as defined by the ADA.

Registering a Service Animal on Campus. The individual with a disability should contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS) as soon as he or she is aware of plans to bring a service animal to campus. To register a service animal on campus, the individual with a disability should complete the Support Animal Request Form at least 30 days prior to planned arrival and submit it to the Office of Disability Services via Laserfiche. In the event Laserfiche is inoperable for 48 hours or more, submit the request to the Office of Disability Services, which is located in the Health and Wellness Center, Room 114, by phone: (256) 372-4499 or by email: disabilityservices@aamu.edu.

Under the ADA's public accommodation statute, the university is not to ask about medical documentation, identification cards, or require demonstration of the ability to perform so long as the service animal is confined to the areas of the University that are open to the public. However, as required by university policy, the service animal is required to wear the appropriate harness, backpack, or vest identifying it is a trained service dog. When it is not obvious what service the animal provides, and the animal is within restricted access areas (such as residence halls, employee only, or classrooms), the student must provide a letter from a certified clinician which substantiates the answers to the only two questions that can be asked: (1) if the service or support animal is required because of a disability, and (2) what work or task the service or support animal has been trained to perform. The letter must be dated and on letterhead, then submitted to the Office of Disability Services. In the event a person is found to falsely claim an animal, please see the Alabama law §24-8A-5. Alabama law §24-8A-5 states: A person commits the offense of misrepresentation of an animal as an assistance animal or service animal if a person intentionally does any of the following:

- a) Creates a document that misrepresents an animal as an assistance animal or service animal for use in housing, or
- b) Provides a document to another person falsely stating that an animal is an assistance animal or service animal for use in housing, or
- c) Fits an animal, which is not an assistance animal or service animal, with a harness, collar, vest, or sign that the pet is an assistance animal or service animal for use in housing.

- Upon a first offense, a violation of subsection (a) shall be subject to a civil penalty of five hundred dollars ($500) or treated as a Class C misdemeanor, and
- Upon a second or subsequent offense, a violation of subsection (a) shall be a Class B misdemeanor.

Procedures and Management of Service Animals

Request Submission Deadlines. Students requesting accommodations for service animals within a housing assignment on university property must notify the Office of Disability Services by completing the Support Animal Request form. The request should be completed and submitted no less than 30 days prior to the beginning of the semester in which the animal would be requested. If the request is submitted less than 30 days prior to the housing request, the university may be on a limited ability to grant the request. All supplemental documentation must be submitted with the initial request prior to review and or consideration. No animal should be present on campus or in dormitories prior to approval from the Director of Housing. Once approved, the service animal request is valid for the academic year (Fall and Spring). Approval to have an animal in the residence must be approved each academic year and each summer by submission of request to the Office of Disability Services and final approval by the Director of Housing.

Conflicting Medical Conditions. Individuals with medical or psychological conditions affected by service or support animals should contact the Office of Disabilities Services (ODS) if there is a health or safety concern about exposure to a service animal. The person reporting the concern will be asked to provide medical documentation to ODS and sign a Release of Information Form to the Student Health and Wellness Center so that a determination may be made regarding a need for accommodation.

Roommate Notification and Approval. The requesting student will notify and seek approval from roommates via email or other forms of written communication alongside the request of the service animal. The roommate decision should be attached with each annual submission.

Notice of replacement or removal of animal. Students will notify Disability Services and Director of Housing if an animal is no longer kept by the student in the residence. To replace an animal, the student must complete a new request with all documentation submitted to the Disability Services office. The replacement animal must not be on university property until notice is provided by the Director of Housing.

Access. Individuals with disabilities may be accompanied by their service animals in all university buildings where members of the public or participants in services, programs or activities are allowed to go. This would include participation in services, programs, or activities, unless it will fundamentally alter the nature of the goods, services, programs, or activities provided by the University or where is prohibited by health laws (i.e., food prep areas, swimming pools, or sterile laboratories, etc.).

Care and Supervision. The student shall always remain responsible for the service animal. At no time is the student permitted to transfer care or supervision to another person. At no time is the University responsible for the care or supervision of the service animal. If the assigned student is not in the physical presence of the animal, the animal must be within an appropriately sized crate and no longer than a reasonable amount of time. The appropriate amount of time that the animal can be left alone is determined by the Director of housing whose decision is final. Prior to presence on university property, the animal must be housetrained, and crate trained. Housetrained animals mean the animal can consistently control its waste elimination. Crate trained means the animal can be confined to a closed crate without barking, whining, or whimpering. The crates or equipment required for the animal may not pose a threat to the safety of others. Care equipment may not block evacuation routes in case of emergencies.

Control and Animal Behavior. The handler of the service animal must assume full responsibility and always demonstrate full control of the animal. The handler must maintain control of the animal through voice, signal, or other effective controls. If the animal is not under control or poses a risk to the health and/or safety of others, the handler may be asked to remove the animal.

Service animals must be harnessed, leashed, or tethered, unless these devices interfere with the service animal's work or the handler's disability prevents using these devices. To the extent possible, the service animal should be unobtrusive to other students and the learning environment. The student must ensure that the animal does not:

- a. Leave the students room accept when accompanied by the student,
- b. Display disruptive repeated behaviors such as barking, digging, whimpering,
- c. Attack, harass, jump on or at other or their tamper with their personal belongings
- d. Bring nose or mouth near food intended for human consumption

AAMU has the authority to exclude an animal temporarily or permanently from the university if the behavior is aggressive or unruly. Upon a single occurrence of unprovoked biting or aggressive behavior, the animal will be required to be removed from the university property. This decision will be approved by authorized personnel or by the Director of Housing.

Animal Health and Vaccination Requirements. The service animal must remain in good health while on university property. AAMU has the authority to exclude an animal temporarily or permanently from the property if the animal is in ill health or is habitually unclean. The student of the service animal must show proof that the animal has been treated for pests such as fleas and ticks, as well as vaccinated against rabies as required by the State of Alabama. As such, the animal must wear a valid rabies vaccination tag. It is further recommended by the State of Alabama that the animal has been vaccinated against distemper/adenovirus/parainfluenza/ parvovirus (DAPP). All service animals kept in residence halls must be sterilized (spayed, neutered, or other method of sterilization). Students must provide Disability services with veterinarian verification that the animal has been sterilized. No request may be approved without the above-mentioned documentation from your veterinarian on official letterhead.

Waste Disposal Grooming/Upkeep. The student is responsible for cleaning and removing or arranging for the immediate removal of the animal's waste. Feces must be disposed of properly and not allowed to be disposed indoors. This includes University common areas and exterior property such as sidewalks etc. At no time are students allowed to maintain grooming (cutting animal hair) or upkeep (bathing) within the residence hall or anywhere on the university property.

University Property Damage and Emergencies. AAMU reserves the right to charge service animal owners and or students for any damage incurred by the animal on any university property.

AAMU is not responsible for any damages caused to the animal because of emergency occurrences such as fire alarms, fire drills, natural disasters, or any other emergency situations.

Except in emergency visits, the handler of a service animal must notify the staff in the Student Health and Wellness Center in advance of the presence of a service animal to ensure that patient safety is not compromised, as well the need to minimize the risk of exposing the service animal to infections and disease.

Harassing, Injuring or Causing the Death of a Service Animal

Effective August 1, 2016, it is the policy (Amendment 621 of the Constitution of Alabama of 1901, now appearing as Section 111.05 of the Official Recompilation of the Constitution of Alabama of 1901) of the State of Alabama to recognize the special role and value of service dogs, not only in the lives of those persons who use them, but also in society at large and, to encourage the use of service dogs by persons with disabilities, and to recognize that those persons have a right to use service dogs without any interference with or injury to the service dog. As such, it is unlawful in the State of Alabama and, considered a Class A, B, or C misdemeanor for a person who has received notice and found guilty of his or her behavior as harassing with malice or reckless disregard, and/or caused injury or death to a service dog without legal justification. In such, reports filed with the Office of Public Safety against individuals on the campus of Alabama A&M University will be handled in accordance with the Student Code of Conduct and applicable laws of the State of Alabama.

Exclusions

University exclusion rationale may include:

- a) The animal is not able to be controlled and the student does not effectively alleviate behaviors such as barking in residence halls, theater, or other places that may disrupt or disturb student learning, or animal placing snout or nose on food intended for human consumption.
- b) The animal will pose undue financial and administrative hardship on university services or facilities that would fundamentally alter the nature of services or programs.
- c) The animal poses a direct threat or would cause substantial damage to the property of others.

Emotional Support Animal Policy

The ADA and FHAct/Section 504 Definition of Emotional Support Animals

Emotional Support animals. Sometimes referred to as emotional support animals, therapy animals and/or companion animals, are not service animals under the ADA. This definition, however, does not limit AAMU's obligations to make reasonable accommodations for assistance under the FHAct or Section 504. In situations where the ADA and the FHAct/Section 504 apply simultaneously, AAMU must meet its obligations under both the reasonable accommodation standard of the FHAct/ Section 504 and the service animal provisions of the ADA.

An emotional support animal is not a pet. It is an animal that aids the benefit of a person with a disability by providing emotional support that alleviates one or more identified symptoms or effects of a person's diagnosed disability. Approval for emotional support animals will be determined by Disability Services and require documentation from a physician, psychiatrist, licensed social worker/mental health professional that demonstrates that the animal provides emotional support to alleviate symptoms of the disability and plays a role in the treatment of a disability. They are prescribed as part of an ongoing therapeutic relationship that is integrated into treatment.

Please note: AAMU will not permit animals that are reasonably viewed as high risk. The University reserves the right to request that an approved emotional animal be removed from campus if:

- a. The animal demonstrates behaviors that is deemed unruly, disruptive, or
- b. The animal becomes a direct threat to the health and safety of others.

AAMU does not allow any individual to keep more than one emotional support animal for a disability (or identified symptom or effect of a disability) for which the animal is needed.

Registration and Management of Support Animals

Disability Services (DS) will determine if an animal meets the criteria of a support animal as defined by the ADA.

Registering a Support Animal on Campus. (See Assistance Animal Guidelines) The individual with a disability should contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS) as soon as he or she is aware of plans to bring a support animal to campus. Under the ADA's public accommodation statute, the university is not to ask about medical documentation, identification cards, or require demonstration of the ability to perform so long as the animal is confined to the areas of housing within the University. However, students must carry, and readily present, documentation (provided by the university) verifying registration with Disability Services.

In the event a person is found to falsely claim an animal, please see the Alabama law §24-8A-5. Alabama law §24-8A-5 states: A person commits the offense of misrepresentation of an animal as an assistance animal or service animal if a person intentionally does any of the following:

Appeal/Grievance Procedure

If a student feels as though his/her request for an animal has been unreasonably denied, he or she may submit a written appeal to ODS for reconsideration. All appeals/grievance will be reviewed by a committee consisting of the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs, Director of Health and Counseling Center, Director of Residential Life, Chief of Public Safety, and an ADA student. ODS and General Counsel (or designee) will serve as the Chairs of the Committee; however, ODS nor General Counsel will serve as a voting member. The Committee will have the ability to require mediation or require the handler to remove the animal from the residence hall or campus if it is determined that the behavior, odor, etc. of the animal is in violation of the AAMU's policy and procedures. The committee will convene within 14 Days of the written request and provide a response with 7 days after the meeting. Please contact the Office of Disability Services at (256) 372-4429 or visit Room 114, Health and Wellness Center for more information.

Consent for sexual activity must be clearly expressed at all times-before and during sexual activity. Moreover, Alabama A&M University also recognizes sexual assault as instances where the alleged victim clearly indicates that he/she has changed his/her mind during a sexual act, and the alleged assailant refuses to stop the sexual act.

Reporting Sexual Misconduct

Alabama A&M University does not tolerate any form of sexual harassment and sexual assault. Individuals who believe that they, or someone they know (third party reporting), is a victim of sexual harassment or sexual assault are strongly encouraged to immediately report the incident to the Department of Public Safety, Vice President for Student Affairs and/or Director of Counseling Services. While the University stresses the importance of reporting all incidents of sexual harassment and sexual assault, AAMU's primary and immediate concern is for the well-being, health, and safety of all of our students.

In many cases of sexual assault applicable federal, state and local laws and regulations may require that University officials report incidents committed on any property owned, leased, or under control of the University to the local Police Department with jurisdiction. As a result, all University officials (including faculty or staff) have an obligation to promptly inform the Director of Public Safety and/or the Vice President for Student Affairs of any known sexual assaults. In meeting these reporting obligations, the University will take steps to protect the privacy of the persons against whom any alleged sexual acts were committed to the extent to which the University is legally permitted to withhold such information.

The University takes all complaints of sexual harassment and assault very seriously and will promptly investigate all allegations. The University Judicial Officer will serve as the primary investigator of all reported incidents involving students. Specifically, the University Judicial Officer will prepare a written fact- finding report in consultation with the accuser(s), accused individual(s), and members of the Public Safety staff. This report will be a summary of the information gathered during the investigative process.

If you are a student who believes you have been subjected to (1) sexual harassment by University faculty or staff; or (2) any other form of gender discrimination under Title IX, you may report such misconduct or file a formal complaint with the Title IX Coordinator in the Office of Human Resources (HR). Complaints must be submitted in writing not more than 300 days after the incident (s) in question. For good cause and at HR's discretion, HR may waive the writing requirement or the 300-day time limitation.

Concurrently, local law enforcement agencies may investigate if a crime has taken place in accordance with the Alabama State Law. The University reserves the right to adjudicate violations of the Student Code of Conduct without waiting for completion of any police investigation. Following the completion of the fact-finding report, the University Judicial Officer will determine whether a violation of the University's sexual harassment or sexual assault policy has occurred. If it is determined that a violation of policy has occurred, the University Judicial Officer will proceed with disciplinary action against the accused party.
