ALABAMA A&M UNIVERSITY

Service is Sovereignty

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Loyal Constituent:

I am pleased to extend to you this publication as an earnest indication of Alabama A&M University's renewed commitment to fiscal transparency. Despite the often-herculean tasks placed upon their shoulders, previous Foundation personnel gallantly carried on the vision of the Foundation's originators for some fifty continuous years. It is only proper to acknowledge their role in bringing us to this summit of future sustained growth.

Nonetheless, we will remain vigilant about assuring accountability, transparency and good customer service. Additionally, we also acknowledge the steady improvements conceptualized and initiated by Mr. Jamal Ali, Vice President for Marketing, Communication and Advancement, an AAMU alumnus. I am confident that the Foundation will achieve new heights under his watch.

As your donor confidence builds, you will continue to see new ways that your contributions to AAMU are impacting the lives of students, faculty, staff and the larger campus community. We hope you are also connecting with the Office of Alumni Affairs and other campus communication sources to stay abreast of happenings on The Hill year-round.

Visit your beloved campus whenever you can do so. Re-establish bonds so that you can remain attuned to the unique needs impacting those areas that maintain a special place in your heart. Your continued involvement will no doubt spur you to want to do more, to give more.

Best wishes for health and happiness in all your future endeavors.

Respectfully

Daniel K. Wims
President

LETTER FROM THE VICE PRESIDENT

Hello, Fellow Supporters of AAMU:

I am pleased to follow through on my commitment one year ago to provide donors with a timely and accurate accounting of their contributions to this great institution. This edition of the Annual Report is a comprehensive document that meticulously captures all donor activity between October 1, 2021, through September 30, 2022. Similar to the previous year, this report includes inspiring donor highlights, touching testimonials, and even informative charts that provide a clearer picture of the trajectory of giving at AAMU.

Although many contributions to the University are often paired with some key annual event (i.e., Class Reunion weekend, Black Tie Scholarship Gala, etc.), we are continuing to find that our alumni and other generous donors are frequently enthusiastic about their giving and decisive about where they want their gifts applied. But the key takeaway here is that they do not necessarily time or align their gift(s) to coincide with a particular giving event or cycle. They often move when the spirit hits them!

And, when it hits, the AAMU Foundation remains that dependable avenue through which gifts and fundraising efforts are channeled for accountability, holding, investing and distribution. The Foundation has provided these services for over five decades, and we are moving methodically to ensure that it remains in step with knowledgeable personnel, the latest fiscal platforms and enhanced customer service. Moreover, we realize that the entire University and many of its constituents rely heavily on the Foundation's due diligence in carrying out its mission and in doing so expeditiously.

As I round out my very first year as Vice President for Marketing, Communication and Advancement, I am poised to assure you that the Development staff will remain dedicated to account accuracy and timely acknowledgement. Your support is essential to the University at so many levels. Normalite contributions often determine whether students complete their studies to move on to realize their dreams. Many departments and labs receive significant wherewithal to expand and modernize their equipment and techniques. On another plane, your generous contributions impact AAMU's ability to ensure unprecedented experiences for our students, similar to the financial gifts to the Marching Maroon and White Band to help fund their participation in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in New York City.

Finally, AAMU supporters will play a vital role in the success of the many appeals that will be associated with the upcoming 150th anniversary of this illustrious institution. We have committed significant resources to capitalize on this once-in-a-lifetime moment in terms of marketing expertise, information gathering and planning. Your financial assistance will be needed like never before.

Thus, we all have a role to play in completing the circle of giving and sustaining the William Hooper Council Legacy. Of course, there are many problems that even AAMU cannot solve. However, with your unceasing support, we can say with confidence that a quality and accessible education will forever remain in our grasp. Go, Bulldogs!

Sincerely,

Jamal Ali
Vice President – Marketing, Communication and Advancement
AAMU Foundation Executive Director

DONOR HIGHLIGHTS

MICHAEL '88 CHALA 87

Michael and Chala Ford

We are proud alums of Alabama A&M University, Chala – 1987 and Michael - 1988. After graduating, we eagerly joined the Huntsville Alumni Chapter. After a couple of years, life happened, we relocated, and giving back was not a priority. Today, we have regrets about that decision. As we traveled and explored, our knowledge of philanthropy expanded.

People give to charities for various reasons, including a desire to help others, a belief in the organization's mission, a sense of civic responsibility, or a feeling of gratitude. Some people also give to leave a legacy or to support a cause they are passionate about. Additionally, some people may give to charities for tax benefits or other financial incentives.

Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs) have played an essential role in providing higher education opportunities for African American students. People give to HBCUs for a variety of reasons, including a desire to support the educational advancement of African American students, a belief in the mission of the HBCU, a sense of civic responsibility, or a feeling of gratitude for the opportunities that HBCUs have provided for themselves or for family members. Some people may also give to HBCUs to support preserving African American culture and history. Additionally, some people may give to HBCUs to support local community development and promote diversity and inclusion in higher education.

Donating is a selfless act. One of the positive effects of donating money to Alabama A&M University is simply feeling good about giving. Being able to give back helps us achieve a greater sense of personal satisfaction and growth, and it feels good to help our Alma Mater.

Once we graduate, we often look to the next phase of our lives, leaving behind our Alma Mater and forgetting what it took to get us to graduation. It took the contributions of many people who attended HBCUs in the past: the alumni. Alumni can play an enormous role at Alabama A&M University. We can support scholarships, give monies toward the operating budget, fund innovative retention programs, and volunteer in helpful ways.

In the Bible, the passage discusses the concept of giving to others. One of the most well-known is found in 2 Corinthians 9:7, which states, "Each of you should give what you have decided in your heart to give, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver." This passage emphasizes the importance of giving freely and willingly rather than out of a sense of obligation or because of external pressure. Overall, the Bible teaches that giving to others is a crucial way to serve God, show love and compassion for our fellow human beings, and use our resources to positively impact the world.

We both are very passionate about our Alma Mater. Giving back allows us to build and leave a legacy for Alabama A&M University.

KARLA '95

"Education is the passport to the future, for tomorrow belongs to those who prepare for it today"
-- Malcolm X

I was born and raised on the West Side of Chicago, and I am the youngest of three. To this day, I remain grateful for my parents because despite our humble surroundings, they believed in me and supported my dream of attending college at Alabama A&M University (AAMU).

Shortly after arriving at A&M, my family and I quickly realized that we were lacking the financial resources that were needed to register for classes. During a meeting, a financial aid staffer, presented an option which ultimately changed the trajectory of my life. She assisted my parents and me with developing a plan to align the appropriate financial resources to fund a four-year education. Through this plan, I was able to register for classes and started my degree completion.

Although, I actually cannot recall the name of the staffer, I do remember how she demonstrated such care and empathy. She really believed that I deserved a chance. This was the same spirit I encountered in many other faculty and staff members during the four years I attended the University.

As a class of 1995 graduate of the School of Business, receiving an education from Alabama A&M University has been a gift that keeps on giving. I am grateful that God ordered my steps from Chicago to Huntsville! My commitment to giving back is fueled out of a pure love for the University, a huge amount of gratitude for how attending A&M helped change my life and the responsibility of helping others achieve greater success. Knowing firsthand that education helps with leveling the playing field, it is an honor to contribute annually to the University and support its continued focus on building lives and creating a great future for many generations to come.

KIARA MILES '20

I want to be a testament to others that even when life comes at you hard and knocks you down, it is possible to get up with God and prayer on your side. I started my graduate program days after losing my mom to COVID, in August 2020. I have been fighting over the past two years to finish my master's degree, which has made me more relentless and stronger than ever. I am happy to say that I received my master's degree in Fall 2022. I would like to thank the Black-Tie Scholarship committee for selecting me as a recipient and providing the much-needed financial assistance to allow me to complete my degree program.

JOSIAH GHOLAR '24

The Black Tie Gala scholarship has been nothing short of a blessing for students here at Alabama A&M University. This scholarship provided me with much-needed financial assistance as I work toward completing my degree program. The Black Tie Gala affords students an opportunity to experience a beautifully designed and planned evening dedicated to them as recipients of the scholarship. I am not only speaking for myself when I say that the BTG scholarship helped save my educational career here at AAMU when I wanted to give up. I am sure others would agree with me. Thank you for this opportunity and God bless!

BREZHANE WALKER '23

I would like to thank the Black Tie Gala Scholarship committee for selecting me as a recipient for this scholarship, which has truly done wonders for me. The Black Tie Gala Scholarship was designed to support talented students who demonstrate a financial need. Your support has allowed me to be a community leader and make a positive impact in the community and university. Since I was able to focus more on my goals and aspirations, I was able to make an impact in the surrounding areas and have been awarded the BEYA 2023 Community Service Leadership Award. I was also able to focus on the organizations I joined at the university and became the Vice President as well as Miss NSLS Queen for the National Society of Leadership and Success. While in this position, I have made the organization active again since COVID. It is now involved in the community and actively participates in organizing canned food drives and reading to the elementary students in the local schools.
