AGGREGATE STUDENT DATA

Unit Name	Family and Consumer Science Department

Institution Name	Alabama Agricultural and Mechanical University

Directions	Aggregate student achievement data have been categorized according to graduation rates; retention and attrition; and certification/licensure pass rates for national exams. Start where you can, but the past three years are being used in this example as benchmarks with the intent being to provide this data for each future year, always leaving a three-year window available for public access. Provide the number and percentage of students within each category of student achievement that is applicable for your unit. Add/remove major/concentrations rows as needed.
