“Climb Higher Live Honors”

Who Are We:

The Alabama Agricultural and Mechanical University Honors Program provides an intellectually challenging learning environment for students of outstanding abilities. Students acquire life-long skills that are necessary in an ever-changing and fast-paced world as they work in a community of peers with some of the best professors on campus. Individual quests for excellence are also sponsored in the program with study abroad initiatives, internships, and research projects.

Established in 1993, still committed to the three core values of Scholarship, Leadership and Service, the Honors Program has grown to over 200 members. These students are vibrant, civically engaged and socially conscious. They excel both in and outside of the classroom. The expectation of excellence remains the same. Scholars are required to focus on areas of personal growth in communication, service, research, entrepreneurship, and leadership. These scholars can be found doing everything from conducting groundbreaking research with faculty, conquering the study of international policy in Croatia, Wales and China, interning with Fortune 500 companies like Apple, Google and Disney to being on the executive boards of the many campus student organizations. Students in the Honors Program are expected to excel, and they do!

Our Mission:

Is to challenge outstanding students at a higher academic pace and to provide experiential learning that will help students achieve success in a fiercely competitive world. The honors program provides superb educational, leadership, research, and service opportunities. Honors students will have access to advanced course offerings and extra- curricular activities that are discipline specific, innovative, and scholarly. Organized service for others also helps to perfect leadership skills that are required in most professional settings.

Our Goals:

- To attract students who are academically talented and to offer programs of study designed to stimulate them to do the quality of work equal to their potential, one which prepares participants to enter and to successfully complete graduate and professional programs of study.
- To encourage and stimulate learning outside the classroom.
- To enable qualified students to progress at an accelerated rate.
- To maximize the opportunity for students to grow intellectually through classroom activities, colloquia, research, and writing seminars, and to broaden and enhance their social and cultural experiences.
- To encourage honors program students to participate in various activities at AAMU and to serve as classroom volunteers, peer counselors, teaching assistants, research assistants, laboratory assistants, and program assistants for major University functions.
- To participate in cooperative linkages and collaborative agreements with graduate and professional schools at major universities across the nation and with industries seeking individuals who are highly trained.

Greetings Name of POC, Company/Business Name!

The Alabama Agricultural and Mechanical University Honors Program is celebrating 30 impactful years standing on the pillars of scholarship, leadership, and service with the mission of shaping people who shape the world. I am Jarvis Prewitt, the Chief Operating Officer of the Honors Executive Council, with hope that you will partner with us to continue to "Climb Higher and Live Honors".

Over the 30 years, the program has grown to over 300+ members with 76% being scholarship recipients, 12% student athletes, with an average GPA of 3.5, and 1000+ in service hours collectively as a group. Many have graduated and have gone on to become educators, lawyers, accountants, and even engineers. Our students and alumni are only as good as we prepare them to be successful in this world. We charge ourselves to ensure our students leave the program with professional development, career advising, service projects, and so much more. We wouldn't have been able to support those students on their educational journeys without supporters like you. The students in the University Honors Program will "Start Here, and Go Anywhere"!

On behalf of the Alabama A&M University Honors Program, we would like to present some opportunities for sponsorship in support of initiatives and the continued growth of the Honors Program. Your sponsorship can aid in increasing the scholarship opportunities awarded to Honor students, support staple events like the annual Honors Program Leadership Retreat, participating and attending the Honda Campus All-Star Challenge (HCASC) or the Thurgood Marshall College Fund (TMCf) Leadership Institute to share a few. We serve a very diverse group of scholars with lofty career goals, and we value all current and future partners that are willing to invest into the largest HBCU in the state of Alabama that's growing with a strong tech and engineering presence. With your support, we will be able to fully execute our programming events and opportunities to experience and serve that makes the program what it is today.

Thank you for your time and consideration in changing the lives of the students in the Alabama A&M University Honors Program. As we continue enhancing our program and increase our membership, we want you to be a part of this next level of student success!

An investment of any amount can make a huge difference for our program, university, and community.
